

your field AND your professional career

A grant award means

- Experts in the field acknowledge your idea as important and worthy of support
- Enhanced prestige and financial support

How do I find the right grant?

Use your long term research/scholarly agenda as guide to search for grants

Research potential funding sources, both philanthropic and governmental

Identify any necessary venues or collaborators

Evaluate time investment – proposal development vs. award potential

Establish short and long term goals shortterm grants vs long term grants
